

FREE webinar for parents

At this present time it is important as parents that we help our children stay positive and motivated, so we have designed this FREE webinar, aimed at parents of children who have dyslexia, to support the education of your children at home.

Join our live webinar hosted by our Head of Assessment, Education and Training Karen Mace on Tuesday 24 March at 7.30-8.30pm.

This session will provide:

- Tips, tools and strategies of how best to support the education of your dyslexic child
- Discussion of key resources that can assist
- Update on support we will be offering during the schools closures
- Advice on where to go for more information, training and assistance

We have limited space available on this webinar, so please sign up early to secure your place.
